

Taft's Manager Predicts His Nomination In Two Ballots

SWEDISH PAPERS RUMOR STALIN IS DEAD

SURPRISED BY NEW SUPPORT

Rep. Brown Surer Now
That Ohio Favorite
Son Will Win

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Jan. 8.—Sen. Robert A. Taft's campaign manager, Congressman Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, O., says Ohio's "favorite son" candidate for the Republican nomination may win on the "first or second ballot" next summer in the party's national convention at Philadelphia.

Brown's prediction came during a news conference yesterday which followed a state GOP executive committee meeting paving the way for 53 Taft-pledged delegates from Ohio to the convention.

Describing himself as "pleasantly surprised" over prospects, Brown said:

"If Senator Taft comes through this session of congress as he did the last, he will get the nomination on the first or second ballot."

Qualifies Prediction
Brown said he qualified the prediction only because "so many things can happen in six months."

As of today, Brown continued, Ohio's senior senator "has more delegate strength than any other presidential candidate—announced or unannounced."

Brown also listed "healthy signs" to counteract talk that "Taft is all right, but he can't be elected."

"I have been amazed by telephone and personal calls from conservative Democrats who want to help Taft," the national head of the Taft-For-President committee went on.

"These people told me that Taft would be a very strong candidate if nominated. If the convention were held today, Taft would go into it with a substantial vote."

Brown likewise asserted that he did not believe former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, an avowed presidential candidate, would attempt to win Ohio delegates. He said that, although he had no knowledge of Stassen's plans at the present time, he "frankly" did not think the Minnesota would seek delegates in Ohio.

Brown also professed ignorance of Taft's possible bid for delegates through primaries in other states. He said, however, that the Ohio senator might deem it advantageous to try to win the preferential vote in certain states not requiring a delegate's consent before placing him on the ballot.

Will Enter Nebraska Race
Nebraska, Brown said, was one state where Taft's name could be entered without consent although the preferential vote is not binding on delegates there.

Of Taft's prospects in Nebraska, Brown declared: "I am convinced Taft will have practically all the Nebraska delegates."

The GOP state organization yesterday selected a slate of nine delegates-at-large, headed by U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker, and sent word to districts to select delegates who would wage a real fight for Taft's nomination.

Both the delegates-at-large and the 44 district delegates will be elected in the May primary. Political observers said they probably would be unopposed.

In filing their candidacy petitions, delegates will pledge their

The Little Guy In the Sweater Did It!

It was that little guy in the sweater who did it . . . seems the two Marines, Sgt. Homer Powers, 21 (left), and Corp. George Miller, 21, "landed" in a Chicago tavern but failed to get the "situation" well in hand. Sweater-clad Joseph Diore, 31, is shown after testifying that Miller threw a beer bottle at him and Powers came to Miller's rescue in the melee. The bandages cover broken noses, and Powers' right arm is broken. Both Marines were fined for disorderly conduct.

Mullins Paid Record Wage Total To Workers In '47

Employees of the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. received a record total of $10,500,000 in wages during 1947, it was announced today by George E. Whitlock, president.

This amount, paid to persons working in plants and offices in Salem and Warren, is nearly $3,500,000 higher than the payroll for 1946.

It tops the previous record annual payroll set during the war by $2,400,000. This was in 1944 when the company paid $8,200,000 in wages and salaries.

Ninety per cent of the 1947 payroll went to hourly-paid employees in the company's factories. The remainder was paid to all salaried workers, including supervision and management, salesmen, clerks, office employees and engineers.

3,700 Employees
Whitlock contrasted this payroll, which was shared by about 3,700 employees, to the payroll of only $2,375,000 which was shared by

MICHELSON, FAMED PUBLICITY MAN, DIES

Democratic Press Relations Executive Dies at 79; Promoted Third Term

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Charles Michelson, 79, newspaperman and former publicity director of the Democratic national committee, died today.

He had been ill and confined for months to his apartment where he died.

Michelson, veteran political writer, took over as Democratic press agent in 1929 and held the post for 13 years.

In 1940 he promoted a third term for Franklin D. Roosevelt—the first ever given a President.

Michelson had been chief Washington correspondent for the New York World for 12 years before taking the party job—eventually paid him $25,000 a year.

A native of Virginia City, Neb., he started his newspaper career as a $7 a week reporter on the San Francisco Post. He worked on several West Coast and New York papers.

He died at 7:45 a. m. after awakening and asking a nurse to bring him a cup of coffee.

Health Survey In District Underway

The Rural Health Survey being conducted throughout the rural parts of Columbiana county is progressing, according to the extension service office in Lisbon where the questionnaires are being filed for tabulation. About 400 enumerators have participated in making the survey.

Questions asked pertained to immunization, certain diseases, and various health problems. The survey will be used by the County Rural Health committee to develop a long-time rural health program for the county. Most of the townships have now completed their work.

Members of the County Health committee and the survey chairman will meet in the city hall at Lisbon on Monday afternoon to analyze the results of the survey and to further plan the program.

Representatives of all organizations, agencies, and groups interested in rural health are members of the County committee. Mrs. Roy Archibald, East Rochester, is chairman.

OPENINGS REMAIN FOR NURSES' CLASS

Two more applications are available for the new nurses class which will be admitted to Salem City hospital Feb. 23, according to Miss Hester Willis, director of nurses.

The three-year course bears the approval of the state nurses board and trainees are first given a six-months pre-clinical study period and before graduating are permitted to take six months' advanced training at Cleveland City hospital.

Applicants are urged to secure registration forms at once since the size of the class is limited.

"Do It Right Or Not At All" --- Marshall

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Secretary of State Marshall appealed to congress today for an adequate, prompt and effectively administered European aid program and bluntly challenged the lawmakers:

"Either undertake to meet the requirements of the problem or don't undertake it at all."

At the same time the soldier-turned-diplomat rejected outright the Republican backed proposal to create a new government corporation to administer the projected aid program. He called for a single administrator responsible to the President and working in harmony with the Secretary of State, Marshall asserted.

The man whose name designates the "Marshall plan" for European recovery appeared before the senate foreign relations committee as the first of more than a dozen high officials assigned to present the Democratic administration's case to the Republican congress for a four-year multi-billion dollar program of assistance to Western Europe.

Dollars Will Not Save World
Of the need for such aid, Marshall declared: "Dollars will not save the world—but the world today cannot be saved without dollars."

The cabinet officer's briskly written 5,500-word statement sketched the arguments for the huge project, unprecedented in America's peacetime history, told how and why he thinks it should work, why he considers it necessary and what it ought to cost.

He described the $6,800,000,000, which President Truman has asked for the first 15 months of the plan, as a precision figure which "does not represent a generous estimate of requirements. It is not, he said, an 'asking figure' based on expected ease by congress."

Aid in the full amount, Marshall asserted, is required to initiate a program of genuine recovery and to take both Europe and this nation out of the blind alley of mere continuing relief."

As for the whole undertaking, the secretary reiterated earlier estimates that the cost might range between $15,000,000,000 and $17,800,000,000. But he said "the overall cost is not capable of precise determination so far in advance."

"Three principles," Marshall said "should determine the amount and timing of our aid. It must be adequate. It must be prompt. It must be effectively applied."

On the question of providing sufficient funds to do the job, he told the lawmakers the first appropriation should be enough to get the program under way "on a broad, sound basis and not in a piecemeal manner."

"An inadequate program," he added, "would involve a wastage of money."

FAMILY FEUD ENDS FATALLY

East Fairfield Father Dies In Hospital of Bullet Wound

Rudolph Forney, 38, of East Fairfield, father of two children and an employee of the Enterprise Co. in Columbiana, died in Salem City hospital at 5:30 a. m. today of a self-inflicted gunshot wound, following a bitter family quarrel Wednesday night.

Forney's son, James, 9, told Sheriff George Hayes that his father and mother, Ruth Dilling Forney, argued fiercely during the evening.

He said his father hit his mother with a heavy flashlight, inflicting a head wound.

She and the children fled the house, going to a neighbor's home where they called the sheriff. In the meantime, about 9:30 p. m. Forney shot himself with a .22 calibre rifle. His wife, who was hysterical, was also taken to the City hospital for medical treatment.

Surviving are Mrs. Forney; the son James; a daughter, Ruth Ellen, 7; his mother, Mrs. J. H. Forney of Leroy, Mich.; a sister, Mrs. Mildred Keyser of Columbiana; two brothers, Glen of Wind Ridge, Pa.; and Kenneth of Baltimore, Md.

The body was taken to the Warwick funeral home, Columbiana. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

REPORTS GAINS IN MENTAL CARE

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Jan. 8.—Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood reported today that 78 full-time physicians now are employed in state institutions for mental patients compared to 59 a year ago.

Despite the increase, about 50 vacancies remain for doctors in various state institutions, the director said.

"While we have made definite gains in our program to secure additional professional assistance, the state is still faced with the same problem facing other states and governmental agencies, as well as private and public hospitals. We have a long way to go in adequately staffing our institutions," Sherwood said.

A survey of state institutions showed not only 20 per cent increase in the number of physicians now employed, but almost double the number of registered nurses employed compared with January last year.

Registered nurses now employed total 116 compared with 61 last year. The institutions also employ 62 nursing instructors against 52 a year ago.

Salary schedule adjustments were made during the past year to attract more physicians and nurses into the state service, Sherwood said.

"There are many who believe that increasing salaries alone is the answer in obtaining more physicians," Sherwood said. "However, other governmental agencies, which have salary schedules in excess of Ohio's, despite the higher pay have been unsuccessful in filling their professional needs."

"The fact still remains that there are too few psychiatrists in the United States. The war years and years which have followed have placed greater stress on our mental hygiene and have produced case-loads far in excess of the number of doctors required to handle all cases."

Truman Ideas Headed Into Wastebasket

GOP, Democratic Heads Agree Little Hope For Presidential Tax Cut

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Most of President Truman's major 1948 legislative proposals, particularly his tax reduction and anti-inflation plans, appeared headed today for a congressional wastebasket.

But several, including rent control extension, foreign aid, broadened social security coverage, higher minimum wages and civil rights guarantees, seemed likely to pass in compromise form.

Still others, such as national health insurance and compulsory military training, were lumped in the "highly doubtful" category.

Truman outlined the program yesterday in a 43-minute speech to a politically minded and election-conscious congress which reacted generally along partisan lines. Republicans claimed Truman was playing politics. Democrats credited him with statesmanship.

Doubt Tax Program
But leaders of both the Republican majority and the Democratic minority left little doubt they look for the President's tax and anti-inflation plans to be rejected after prolonged wrangling likely to lay the foundation for this year's presidential and congressional elections.

Truman asked congress to give every individual taxpayer an immediate cut of $40 for himself and each dependent and to offset the estimated $3,200,000,000-revenue loss by boosting corporate levies.

He asked also for the inflation curb powers he was denied last month, including strict wage-price control and rationing authority.

Describing his tax plan as a "cost of living" credit to provide relief for the low income group, the President said corporations are well able to make up the revenue loss.

The immediate Republican reaction was to speed plans for passage of the GOP bill to top $5,000,000 from the tax take by providing personal exemptions, applying the community property principles to all states and trimming all tax rates from the highest brackets down to the lowest.

Pending future strategy meetings—the house GOP steering committee meets next week to look over the legislative program—a party leaders privately rejected this outcome for other Truman's proposals.

Compulsory military training—unlikely to be passed despite the insistence of top members of the house armed services committee for action now.

Foreign aid—the senate foreign relations committee starts hearings today on the administration's long-range plan to stem Communism abroad by means of a multi-billion dollar European recovery program. There is little opposition to the principle of foreign aid but sharp disagreement over how much should be spent and who should supervise the program.

Social security—coverage likely will be broadened, but not as extensively as the President wants.

Minimum wages boosted—the President asked for a hike from 40 to 75 cents in the hourly minimum for unorganized industrial workers. A compromise of about 60 cents is in the making.

Civil rights guarantees—Republicans currently are preparing anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills, both of which have better-than-good chances. Prospects for additional legislation along this line are dim.

Health Program "No Sale"
National health insurance—the President's request for a national health program financed by compulsory insurance is in the "no sale" category.

Housing—Truman's plea for a long-range, government-supported housing program so that "every American family has a decent home" may go unheeded.

Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii—"Perhaps Hawaii, but not Alaska at this time," said a top Republican.

Natural resources development—"If this means some more TVA's, it's out."

A long range agricultural program—Probably will be enacted eventually.

Displaced persons—Relaxation of immigration restrictions to permit many of Europe's war-displaced refugees to enter the United States is probable, although not certain.

Tariff reduction—Modified extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act expiring in June is likely. Federal financial aid to states to equalize educational opportunities—improbable.

Faith In Freedom

A Presidential message on the state of the union always is hard to comment on because there's so much of it. That's why news writers pick out a high spot and go over everything else once lightly, or not at all. This year they picked out Mr. Truman's proposal for cutting taxes on individual incomes and boosting them on corporate incomes—an important idea, but only a fraction of the presidential message.

This editorial might be written about that, or some other detail of the president's report on the state of the union. Instead, it is going to be written about something he said that would have been an empty generality under other circumstances.

"We are people with a faith," Mr. Truman said. "We believe in the dignity of man. We believe that he was created in the image of the father of us all. We do not believe that men exist merely to strengthen the state or to be cogs in an economic machine. We do believe that governments are created to serve the people and that economic systems exist to minister to their wants. We have a profound devotion to the welfare and rights of the individual as a human being. The faith of our people has particular meaning at this time in history because of the unsettled and changing state of the world."

The President laid down this speculation for solving the nation's problems:

"We seek answers which will embody the moral and spiritual elements of tolerance, unselfishness and brotherhood upon which true freedom and opportunity must rest."

Concluding the message, he said:
"This is the hour to rededicate ourselves to the faith in mankind that makes us strong. This is the hour to rededicate ourselves to the faith in God that gives us confidence as we face the challenge of the years ahead."

No one has stated the case for a revival of American faith in freedom any better than Mr. Truman has stated it. This newspaper will disagree with him on many things in the months ahead, but no one can disagree with him on the necessity of believing in the American tradition of individual rights—now more than ever.

Civilization has been hurt grievously by despots who have run amuck over the rights of people. It has been hurt, even in the United States, by an unreasonable and blind devotion to a credo of materialism that teaches human beings they are no better than animals; that they should be content to be bred, fed, worked and butchered, if necessary, by masters.

This cruel and inhuman cynicism has been incorporated as an ideology by a ghastly cabal of opportunists with a passion for power—and the minor fact the ideology bears various names does not change the great fact that it's always the same thing.

Its zealots are shrewdly exploiting the hopelessness of human beings who have no faith; who are content to be treated like animals. (There is only one thing on earth that can stop them—people who do have faith and demand to be treated like human beings—people who will fight despotism wherever and whenever it lifts its bloody flag.)

Mr. Truman has earned his countrymen's gratitude for making a clear statement on the fundamental issue in the world today—the issue between despots who think only governments have inalienable rights.

Georgia Hunts A Loophole

Georgia's Herman Talmadge, seeking a way to bar negroes from voting, is considering a law similar to Alabama's. It requires voters to be able "to explain and understand the Constitution." The only trouble is such a test applies to whites as well as negroes.

The "explain and understand the Constitution" law might cause embarrassment in high places in Georgia if it were tried on certain officials; especially that part of the 15th amendment which reads: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude."

Steady Improvement

Only Memphis, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala., have been passed up by the Freedom trains because they were unwilling to suspend their race segregation rules for its visit. In the many other southern cities where it has stopped, there has been no segregation and no trouble.

The South's racial situation does improve, although slowly. Ten years ago the train would have passed up far more than two cities. Just as 10 years ago there were eight lynchings in the south, compared with one in 1947.

Look On Any Bill

Ohio Democrats have chosen W. A. Julian of Cincinnati as their "favorite son" presidential candidate to qualify the Ohio delegation for the national convention.

Mr. Julian's name should be more familiar than it is. As treasurer of the United States, he has had his signature on every bank note turned out by the government for more than 14 years. His signature has been reproduced millions of times. Look on any bill.

Despite this, he remains, outside the Treasury and Democratic politics, an obscure and little-known figure. The most recent honor to come to him will do little to spread his fame.

Headlong Retreat

Union support of Henry Wallace is vanishing like a snowdrift in a hot sun. William Green, Walter Reuther, James Carey and the New York and Illinois C. I. O. have declared against his third-party candidacy.

Before he announced his candidacy, there were plenty of Wallace supporters and apologists among the union leaders. Now that he has seen fit to toss his hat in the ring, the stampede for exits has been terrific.

The union's defection is in part attributable to the support his third-party program is receiving from the Communists. It also is attributable to the fact the union leaders don't want to cast their lot with a lost cause. The headlong retreat from the Wallace banner makes his cause look more abject every day.

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, January 9

While affairs generally are under a benign and productive rule, with every fair promise of growth, expansion, increased fertility and heightened prospects, yet there is some danger born of either an attitude of smugness, inflation, or overweening satisfaction at the trend of events.

This might lead to extravagances, excesses, or "plunging" inordinately, or mistaken judgement as to costs, assets or exaggerated personal influence and prestige may be at the root of defeat. Be content to maintain established bases.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, although having gained much ground in establishing important foundations for a progressive, ambitious and expansive program, in which future fortunes, prospects, and pleasant relations are assured, yet may be imbued with a spirit of over-zealous desire to enhance, expand and take rash chances.

Such are likely to plunge into excess, extravagance or an unwarranted evaluation of current factors.

False ideas and inflationary ambitions may alienate joint interests, already safe on the way to support. Shun such hazards.

A child born on this day, while ambitious and efficient, with good prospects of success and personal gratification, may be lured by extravagance, false values, and overweening vanity.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

A Painful Baby Disorder

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
THE child who suffers from the condition known as intussusception comes suddenly, seriously, and dramatically sick.

Even though, as a rule, he is too young to describe his pain, his mother will notice that never before in his life has he cried so hard.

Intussusception usually develops in well-nourished and healthy babies between the ages of four and ten months. In this disorder there is a sort of telescoping of the bowel, which seems to take place most often when the child is being changed from a liquid to a solid diet.

Thus, this may be one of the causes of the condition, though it may also develop as an apparent aftermath to a bowel infection.

Attacks of Pain

The symptoms of intussusception consist of attacks of colicky pain, vomiting, and the presence of blood in the bowel movements. About three-fourths of the children who develop intussusception usually have all of these symptoms and all off those with the condition have at least one of them.

If, when these symptoms are present, a lump or mass can be felt in the abdomen, a diagnosis of intussusception is certain. Often, the lump may also be felt through the rectum.

Severe Symptoms

As I indicated earlier, even the first symptoms are severe enough to show that the child is seriously ill. The condition starts suddenly either with vomiting or an attack of sharp, colicky pain which may last only a few seconds but which returns at 10 to 30-minute intervals.

Between attacks, the baby may appear well but when the pain comes on again he grows pale, draws up his legs, and cries violently. His pulse will be rapid and he may develop fever.

As the condition progresses, and the blocking of the opening through the bowel is more complete, the child is pale, sweaty, and may often go into shock or collapse.

In making a diagnosis, it may be necessary to give the child an anesthetic or drug to put him to sleep. This will relax the muscles of the abdomen so that an examination may be carried out more easily.

If such a procedure is employed, preparations should be made so that, if necessary, an operation can be performed under the same anesthetic. X-ray of the bowel will almost always reveal the obstruction in the intestine.

The treatment to relieve the condition is, in practically all instances, operation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. A.: I seem to have a sensation of pins and needles in my legs. What could cause this trouble?

Answer: The condition you describe may be due to such things as disturbance of the circulation, trouble of the nervous system, or disorder of the lower part of the spine. Pressure, such as from a tumor within the lower part of the abdomen might be responsible. Hence, a thorough study by a physician would have to be carried out before proper treatment could be suggested.

H. T.: Is there anything that will kill head lice and get rid of the eggs?

Answer: To get rid of lice, you might try the following: Thoroughly soak the scalp with petroleum, then apply a loose head bandage and leave this in place for from 12 to 24 hours, during which time the hair must be covered to water; apply a lotion of acetic acid, such as vinegar, and comb out the hair thoroughly with a fine-tooth comb. The next night, apply some more vinegar, and comb the hair again.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

STASSEN DUE TO TESTIFY

Presidential Candidate To Appear Before Speculation Hearings Friday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8—A senate committee investigating speculation has received secret testimony from the broker who handled the account of President Truman's physician and from the broker's wife, herself a heavy trader and a Navy department worker, it was disclosed today.

Committee members confirmed that they have questioned Harry Brisker, a customer's man for Eche and Company, and his wife, Mrs. Eva M. Brisker, a clerk in the Navy department.

They said, further, that Brisker is the broker who personally handled the account of Brig. Gen. H. Graham, Truman's physician.

The committee already has served notice that it will call on Graham to explain his trading activities, probably tomorrow following the appearance of Harold E. Stassen, Republican presidential hopeful, who contends that administration "insiders" have been profiting in commodity deals.

Publish New List
These disclosures came following the publication of a new list of corn traders on which appeared the name of Henry Morgenthau, Jr., former Secretary of the Treasury. Morgenthau acknowledged that he owned 195,000 bushels of corn futures last June 30, but he said in a statement issued in New York that he lost money.

There is nothing illegal in speculation, although it has been denounced by President Truman as a factor in rising prices and some government agencies have regulations against such activity by their employees.

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

- ✓ STOMACH GAS
- ✓ SOUR FOOD TASTE
- ✓ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

of our resources with an ineffective result. Either undertake to meet the requirements of the problem or don't undertake it at all.

On the question of time, Marshall said, "The sooner this program can get under way the greater its chance of success. Unless the program can be placed in operation on or soon after April first, there will undoubtedly be a serious deterioration in some of the basic conditions upon which the whole project is predicated."

In connection with the problem of cost, Marshall gave this reply to whether the American people can bear the costs and make the "sacrifice" he considers necessary to success.

"A world of continuing uneasy half-peace will create demands for constantly mounting expenditures for defense. This program should be viewed as an investment in peace. In those terms, the cost is low."

The "investment in peace" should pay out, Marshall said, by enabling Europeans to restore their war-ravaged economies "against the avowed determination of the Soviet Union and the Communist party to oppose and sabotage" the recovery program "at every turn."

He pictured the alternative to economic recovery as a Western European collapse in which "the historic base of western civilization will take on a new form in the image of the tyranny that we ought to destroy in Germany."

"Our national security will be seriously threatened," he said. "We shall live in effect in an armed camp, regulated and controlled." Marshall appealed to his congressional audience not to attach strings to the aid beyond seeing that the funds and goods are "effectively used to promote recovery and not diverted to other purposes whatever their nature."

"All we can say is this program does provide the means for success and if we maintain the will for success I believe that success will be achieved."

Thad's Feet Hurt

After a long, hard day's work on the farm, Thad's idea of how to spend an evening is to take off his shoes, and relax with a mellow glass of beer.

But his missus has other ideas. After being in the house all day, she's all for walking to the village, if it's only for a soda. Likes to see people, catch the latest gossip. But Thad says, no, his feet hurt! Begun to cause unpleasantness in Thad's home.

Then Bill Webster comes up with an idea. If Thad takes the missus to Andy's Garden Tavern, Thad can relax with his glass of beer, and the missus can also chat with all the neighbors there. Each gets his (or her) own way.

Worked, too! In fact, now the missus likes an occasional temperate glass of beer herself. And Thad finds it's pleasanter to enjoy his beer with good companions, rather than alone. In fact, his feet stopped hurting too!

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

THE most common faults of women are these:

Not being willing to stand by a bargain. They marry for love and then are unhappy because they don't have as many material things as a woman who married for security. Or they marry for money, and then feel cheated because they don't have romance, too.

Trying to keep up with the Joneses. They don't want what they want because they want it, but because some other woman has it.

Showing off. Entertaining in order to impress others. Buying clothes because of their labels.

Being disloyal to their husbands. They discuss their husbands' shortcomings with their women friends, tell their husbands' business, criticize their in-laws.

Talking too much. Having only the most superficial idea of world affairs.

Worrying more over other people's problems than over their own.

Putting off. Living in the future, rather than in the present. "When the children are in school I'll do so and so." Or

"when we have more money" or "when we own our own home."

Not being able to make up their minds as to what is important and what is not.

Not laughing enough. Most women seem to have one of these faults. And some unhappy women have all of them.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are speaking of your husband to a friend.

WRONG WAY: Keep referring to him as "he" or "Mr. Jones."

RIGHT WAY: Speak of "my husband," or refer to him by his first name.

ADMINISTRATION PREDICTS "MIRACULOUS" RESULTS IF AMERICANS BACK EUROPE AID

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The administration declared today that with the wholehearted support of the American people the Marshall plan will bring about "almost miraculous results" in restoring war-torn Europe.

Resources of the United States and the rest of the globe, the executive branch told congress, are great enough to put the old world "on a self-supporting basis at tolerable standards of living by 1952." But in what it called a "realistic" appraisal of the multi-billion dollar aid proposal, a ponderous report summarizing for congress the findings of half a dozen government agencies cautioned that:

Caution Moves

1. Europe must understand that American help cannot be used to revive the "prewar European steel cartel."

2. Western European shipbuilding plans should be cut back drastically so that more steel can be used for other reconstruction.

3. The dismantling of German plants must provide some machinery which the 16 Marshall plan nations had counted on obtaining from the United States.

4. The United States should decline to ship any of the vast quantities of iron and steel scrap requested.

5. Even if the Marshall plan succeeds, Europeans will have less to eat in 1952 than they did before World War II.

The report cited evidence that the "international steel cartel" agreements supposedly killed before the war may be reviving in the shape of a proposed permanent "steel cooperation committee" jointly backed by England, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

Using frosty language apparently aimed at Europe's ears, the report "presumed" that any agreements made by the committee "would be disclosed in detail to the United States and, upon request of the United States, would be modified to avoid any effects adverse to the objectives of the European recovery program."

Drastic slashing of Europe's requests for steel and her plans for new ship construction featured the eleven-chapter, commodity-by-commodity analysis of the Paris report, drafted last fall at the conference of the 16 beneficiary nations.

Shortage Long Range

As for grain, the No. 1 food item the report found that world supplies for the proposed four-year program will not be sufficient to restore prewar per capita consumption in Europe even by 1952. Supplies which can be moved do not measure up to the requests "in any of the years or for any type of grain."

Rice will fall "far short" of requirements it was predicted; meat will be some 20 percent short.

Sugar, raw cotton and tobacco will be fully available, as will most dairy products except cheese, if purchasing can be started this spring when supplies are on the seasonal upswing.

The Paris requests for electrical and coal mining machinery, coal and timber can be substantially filled, it was stated, but the sights must be lowered on freight cars and farm machinery. Nitrogen fertilizer goals will be missed by 100,000 tons the first year, met thereafter.

In spite of the deficits, the report predicted "a small fraction of the strength of the American economy, properly applied, could furnish the impetus required to move the European economy upward off dead center."

Problems of Those Not Finishing High School Greater Today

(By International News Service)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 8.—If soap operas beset you, if movie villains plague you; if you're worried about the Russians or racial intolerance, at least part of your problems can be traced to—of all things—the boy next door who didn't graduate from high school.

So says Ohio's education director, Clyde Hissong, who believes that many of the nation's ills can be traced to a problem that has been given very little attention—the 40 per cent of the students who enter but never graduate from high school.

Hissong has a chart showing that progression through all four high school grades is far from a normal thing. In fact, Hissong claims, "instead of being normal as is commonly supposed, graduation for the boy or girl who enters high school is barely average."

He points out that 20 per cent of the students who do graduate go on to college. Another 20 per cent enter trade schools. That leaves 60 per cent who just drift into a job.

"Educators," Hissong says, "have given much consideration to the problem of this floating 60 per cent, but I'd like to raise the problem of the boy or girl who never makes graduation day."

"This problem was barely suggested by the regional meeting of vocational directors and chief state school officer at Chicago last March and at a similar meeting in Los Angeles in December."

Ohio's head educational administrator believes the student who drops out of school does not get the proper background in such studies as American history, English, literature, Civics and the rest of the

From Your Cough
Due to Cold
FOLEY'S Honey & Tar Cough Compound

social studies to appreciate truly the culture in which he lives.

This, Hissong says, is one of the causes of racial and religious intolerance, bad government and even wars.

Moreover, he believes, "the non-high school graduate probably feels inferior. I know I would. In an age when the high school diploma is the minimum education requirement, they are blocked from getting even very ordinary positions."

"These people," Hissong continues, "can't even go to the parties and dances of their one-time friends. They feel out of their own social group."

"And when that happens—when they feel inferior—the first reaction is to knife someone in the back. Perhaps not intentionally, but the feeling is there. They're like the person who feels inadequate in the social and business world and so uses alcohol either to escape or bolster his courage."

The problem, as Hissong puts it, is, "what can we do in modifying our school programs to offset this high mortality rate?"

He claims:

"There is no state solution. It's a challenge to each local school system to make a survey of each loss. To discover why each student drops out, what he is doing now, and to adjust the school program to meet the needs."

"School teachers and administrators are vaguely conscious of this problem," Hissong says, "but they are not aware of its enormity."

"However, if Ohio pioneers in this study, then perhaps Michigan, Pennsylvania, Illinois and the other surrounding states will see what can be accomplished and something will be done about this problem on a national scale."

VITAMINS THE WAY YOU WANT THEM

More and more families are turning to BAX, the Complete Vitamin Capsule, for their vitamins. They find BAX more convenient to take—just one tiny capsule each day—no need to take several tablets. More important is this fact:

"Each BAX capsule supplies at least the full adult minimum daily requirement of the important vitamins needed in human nutrition. Why pay more—and perhaps get less?"

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—Child guidance experts never bother to give advice to the people who need it most—godfathers.

Hal Boyle

he has colic or cigarette cough, or how to tell him about the stork and who brings Santa Claus.

But a man will scan them in vain for the slightest hint on how to get along with his godchild. This is unfair and undemocratic and discriminates against a large and little appreciated class. Few people give much thought to the matter, but actually there are probably more godfathers in America than there are fathers.

Take a family with four children, for example. They all have the same father—unless mama took a trip to Reno along the way—but each has a different godfather, four in all. You'd think that with the adult population simply crawling with godfathers someone would write a book for them. But no! Their duties, privileges and responsibilities are usually kissed off vaguely by the proud father in this manner:

"You're little junior's godfather. I know that if anything happens to me you'll watch over him until he can stand on his own feet."

OUTSIDE OF THAT pleasant prospect, the godfather has no more work to do than a stand-in for a cigar store wooden Indian.

Some time ago a friend announced he wanted me to be godfather to his son. I accepted gratefully. I like kids but I am still betting .000 in the pettiest league myself, so I thought this would enable me to have some of the joys of child-raising by proxy.

Well, I went over one day and my friend formally introduced me to my squirming godson:

"See the nice man, Terry. He's your godfather. If anything happens to daddy, the nice man will send your through college." The infant took one look at me and let out a yell as if I had scalped him. He wept and screamed and got red in the face, and everytime I even glanced his way he broke out in wild calls of terror.

That was a year ago. Every month or so I drop by to visit him. He sees "that nice man" and immediately erupts in a wailing Niagara of tears. If I bring him small presents he will accept them only if relayed through a third person. At the age of fourteen months he has only one word of greeting for me: "Ugh!"

IS THAT ANY way for a well brought up baby to say hello to his godfather? I get along famously with every other kid in the neighborhood. They even drop by sometimes to share their used bubble gum. But all my godson ever says is "ugh."

The only thing I can figure out is that the child is allergic to higher education.

Tomorrow I'm going around to see him and say:

"Terry, I don't care what happens to your daddy I'm not going to make you go to college. I'll get you a job racking up balls in a poolroom, kid."

Maybe then the little fellow will like me better. But somebody still ought to write that book on how to be popular with your godchildren. Believe me, the fathers have it easy. You have to do more than pass out cigars to be a good godfather.

Champion wrestlers of Japan often weigh close to 400 pounds.

Parent note: "Old at 40, 50, 60?" are words at 70. Try "Popping up" with Cuties. Contains loads for weak, stumpy fellow due solely to body's lack of iron. Older men, and women, call "Old." Try very day. Now "get acquainted" also only 50c.

Drunk Drivers At Columbiana Face Jail Terms, $500 Fines

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 6—Drunk drivers will face stiffer penalties in Columbiana under a new ordinance enacted Tuesday evening by city council, the new measure conforming to the state law of a maximum fine of $500 and six months in jail. The maximum penalty under the old ordinance was a fine of $50 and 30 days in jail.

In beginning the new year, Mayor Kenneth Gormley reappointed Solicitor R. G. Oakes at a salary of $600 a year, and council organized by electing R. J. Barrow president. Barrow will be acting mayor in the absence of the mayor.

Mayor Gormley assigned members of council to these committees: Streets, Kenneth Ferrall, H. A. Fullerton, R. J. Barrow; finance, Wesley Burkhardt, Harry Eterhardt, J. K. Harding.

Clerk S. Richard Orr read the temporary budget for operation the first three months of the year amounting to more than $84,000 a year.

Mayor Gormley reported 163 arrests during 1947, with fines aggregating $2,808.85, of which the municipality retained about $1,040, the remainder going to the state and county.

The contract with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hetric for answering telephone fire and police calls was renewed.

Local Plant Gets Award

For its record of 15 years without a "lost time" accident, the Columbiana plant of the Electro-Metalurgical Corp. has been awarded a bronze safety tablet and five bronze bars by its parent company, the Union Carbide & Carbon Corporation of New York.

The award was made at a dinner recently in the Legion home, at which there were present visiting officials of the corporation and Manager James Marton and other employees of the Columbiana plant and their wives. A. F. Tyra, Cleveland representative of the corporation, made the presentations. Other prominent guests were F. J. Conroy of the Niagara Falls plant, and J. P. Stanion of Youngstown, member of the industrial commission of Ohio.

York Drexler post, V. F. W., will hold its regular meeting this evening.

Pilgrims Visit Holy City Shrines At Own Peril In Arab's Jerusalem Siege

BY JAMES M. LONG

JERUSALEM, Jan. 8.—The hill of the crucifixion where Christ died and the Holy Sepulchre from which he arose are virtually closed to Christians by the Arab state of armed siege within the walled old city district of Jerusalem.

Jews are barred from the ancient walling wall, now under the tombs of Arab guards, and the Jewish Moslems who walk down the narrow cobbled street to the guarded gates of the Mosque of Omar on the site from which Mohammed ascended to paradise carry rifles openly.

None of this is the intent of the milling tense Arab throngs within the serrated walls. It is the result of the heightening terror of virtual civil war over the partitioning of Palestine.

In evidence that the holy places still are open—if pilgrims dare to venture there—I entered through the tightly guarded Jaffa gate and walked three hours through jammed bazaar teeming with veiled women, children, vendors, goats, burros and men armed with every type of gun to visit all three shrines.

When armed men stopped us my Arab companion hesitated to explain that I was an American. Heretofore friendly Arabs now know America as one of the leaders in the United Nations plan to divide Palestine. So in the land where Christian and Saracen fought to death through the Crusades it now oddly proved a better passport to say only that I was a Christian.

Everywhere in the walled city I was regarded with suspicion, but so far as I could tell no harsh or threatening words were passed. In one tiny Bazaar street I was invited into a boxlike cobbler shop for Turkish coffee brewed over a coal brazier. The shopkeeper deposited his luger automatic on the table beside the coffeepots.

An old woman came limping past begging alms for her suffering from terrorists outside the walls. Given a few coppers she pulled back her yellow veil to show bandages she said covered wounds suffered in the bombing of the Damascus gate.

Later I saw a robed sheikh in flowing white headress emerge from the great gateway to the blue hued Mosque of Omar through whose open arches could be seen the garden of gethsemane and the Mount of Olives. He was followed by an attendant carrying a sub-machinegun under his arm.

The few blue-uniformed Palestine police in the narrow streets made no attempt to disarm Arabs whose weapons showed plainly. They intervene only when there is shooting. Outside the walls it is another matter. There police are committed to disarming anyone found with weapons.

I saw no guards of any kind—not even the usual Arab streetblock of young sentries—around the huge church of the Holy Sepulchre. The young Arab guide there said he had seen only three or four Christian visitors, other than for Christian Arabs who come daily, in the weeks since partition fighting virtually sealed off the old city.

The vendor in the postcard and relic shop just outside the church offered to cut his prices, then shrugged and said "no one comes now."

Inside, past the tiny crosses Crusaders carved in the stone entry walls, where the great domed building covers both the low hill of the crucifixion and the tomb from which the stone was rolled, rituals of the highest sanctity are carried on quietly by the Christian monks waiting for the day of peace and pilgrimages.

Flashes Of Life

COLUMBUS, Jan. 8.—If Mr. and Mrs. Coed at Ohio State university want to step out some night it isn't going to cost them anything for a baby sitter—except her transportation.

The Red Cross college unit at the university is setting up a free service for those whose budgets won't stretch to include a paid baby-sitter.

A survey of married students, most of them veterans, revealed the need for the service. The unit hopes to provide a volunteer baby sitter for each of the student families one Friday or Saturday evening each quarter.

Sitters will be briefed in the care of babies by Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald, director of home nursing for the Franklin county Red Cross chapter.

The first group to volunteer their services for the program were members of the University Dames and Delta Delta Delta sorority.

NEWARK, N. J.—A 74-year-old "walking safety deposit box" who collapsed in the street from the effects of high blood pressure was under treatment today at Newark City hospital.

Police identified the victim as Michael Ghosinsky, a busboy.

They said he carried with him $4,033 in cash, two $500 war bonds and four bank books for "a considerable sum of money."

Mrs. Irene B. Whetstone, 52, a widow, was arrested after she refused to answer a summons from the collector of internal revenue who charged she owes $1,389 in income taxes.

After Federal Judge Walter J. La Buy continued her case to Jan. 16, she said she refused to answer the summons because she wanted the government to go on record whether or not a citizen has to be taxed for foreign governments. She declared she opposed the Marshall plan and cash aid to Europe.

NEW YORK — Max Schulherr is convinced the English are honest people.

The New York delicatessen man lost his wrist watch some weeks ago about the time he was making up some Christmas food parcels for customers who planned to send them to England.

Schulherr got in touch with the customers, one of whom reported yesterday the watch had been found in a package sent to London and was being returned.

Mr. Artzt Is Making Money Reforming Women Shoppers

NEW YORK—An old meanie here figured out a way to defeat one of America's most troublesome racketeers—the woman who takes out clothing on a party tonight and wears it to the store tomorrow.

This man—it would be a man—Walter W. Artzt, 43, a major manufacturer of infants' wear, whose hobby is inventing. He holds seven patents in fields as various as dentistry and textiles.

One of his latest is a sealtag which can automatically attach to any garment taken out on a party.

Can't Wear And Return

The woman cannot wear the garment out in public with the sealtag, said Artzt with soft pride, and she can't remove it without trying it. If she does that, the tag will automatically attach to the garment.

Artzt's simple little gadget, he said, will solve a $400,000,000 problem of the nation's department stores.

It costs them that to clean suits, dresses and fur coats which women take out and wear with no intention of buying.

Artzt is one of those businessmen who do what he can to help the American patterns of life. He does statesmen or poets.

As a matter of fact I used to write poetry," he told a reporter, "I gave it up—no money in it."

There has been money in most of his ideas, however, but not in all. Vienna when he was eleven showed a movie and happened to mention that the film was made of the substance as the phonograph record.

In that case," the boy suggested, "why don't you put voices on the films, too, so you can hear as well as see them?"

Startles Parents

He startled parents, fearful his child had been affected by the new novelty, wouldn't let him make another movie for two years.

Artzt switched to the textile business and spent the week-ends taking machines apart and putting them back together to learn their insides. In three months he had learned a new accordion reed that he sold the ladies to get more money where they needed it. Now he has a factory and sells its $2-

SHANGHAI, "MOST INCREDIBLE CITY," LEAVES NEWCOMER OPEN-MOUTHED

By A. M. GOUL

United Press Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI—I scarcely can believe it, but I like it. That was my impression of Shanghai after my first five days of open-mouthed study of the most incredible city in the world. Five days in Shanghai doesn't qualify any one to "learn all about it," and my bet is five years would not provide a full story of this place. But in five days I saw things I have never seen before and do not expect to see in any other place in the world.

The things I have heard, seen and smelled! The vast mixture of races and peoples, natives and foreigners who are really qualified to speak about Shanghai, no longer see anything unusual about it. To them it's routine.

World of Carnival

But to a freshman, green from the United States, Shanghai is something beyond description. There's nothing freakish about about Shanghai to Shanghaiers, but to me it's a world of carnival and circus side-show talent.

There's the man with his bamboo pole across his shoulder, with a couple of hundred dead rats hanging by their tails. He is surrounded at his sidewalk stand by eager natives bidding for the plumpest, lushest rats of the lot. For the skins and fur, that is, not the meat. They use them for glove-making.

There's the man, a hunter one supposes, who squats on the walkway across Garden Bridge, with a row of wild mallard ducks spread out before him.

There's the traveling butcher shop, the man with two baskets of raw meat and his sidewalk customers picking them over for the choice cuts. At his side is the boy with the small iron stove slung from his shoulder pole, with a little fire going. He will reach into his basket slung from the other end of the pole, bring forth a bit of meat, stick it and hand you a hot sandwich—if you want it. I didn't.

Traffic Incredible

Then there is the unbelievable, crowded traffic of the streets, with thousands on thousands of rickshaws boys trotting along with their fares, or more thousands of pedestrians—rickshaw boys who have advanced in the world to where they have bicycle-powered jobs. They run the streets from curb to curb, dodged along by the chattering, honking, clanking autos, taxicabs, buses, trucks and trams. The whole is welded into a slow-moving mass of legs and wheels.

Sidewalk hawkers add to the terrific jam. Their sing-song cries of the supreme character of their wares add to the economy of the streets. That the thing most likely to cause a newcomer to indulge in hair-tearing is Chinese money and attempts to keep up with the vagaries of its value with respect to the U. S. dollar.

At the moment of writing, one U. S. dollar is worth about $153,000 Chinese, in ordinary transactions. Officially the rate of exchange is $12,000 Chinese to one U. S. dollar.

The official rate long ago became lost in the wake of wage indexes for white-collar employees and laborers, in the open-market rate used by banks, and in the actual hand-to-hand rate paid in about all other transactions, including the black market.

Inflation Puzzling

Any attempt to explain inflation in terms of relationship of Chinese currency to the U. S. dollar would be futile. The best brains in the economic world have not been able to do it in years.

A few samples might help, though. A cup of coffee costs $14,000 Chinese, about 11 cents in U. S. money. A hair cut comes cheap, $35,000 Chinese or about 24 cents U. S.

A plain steak lunch costs $44,000—about 30 cents U. S. A package of American cigarettes costs from $18,000 to $27,000, depending on the brand.

A taxi ride of about 10 blocks costs $100,000 or about 70 cents U. S. But Shanghai has its excellent stores, hotels and restaurants. Shanghai is quite a place.

MILK PRICE SHOWS WHOLESALE CLIMB

COLUMBUS, Jan. 8.—The price paid Ohio farmers for milk sold wholesale continued to advance during last November, the average price of $5.15 per hundred pounds being the second highest of any month on record.

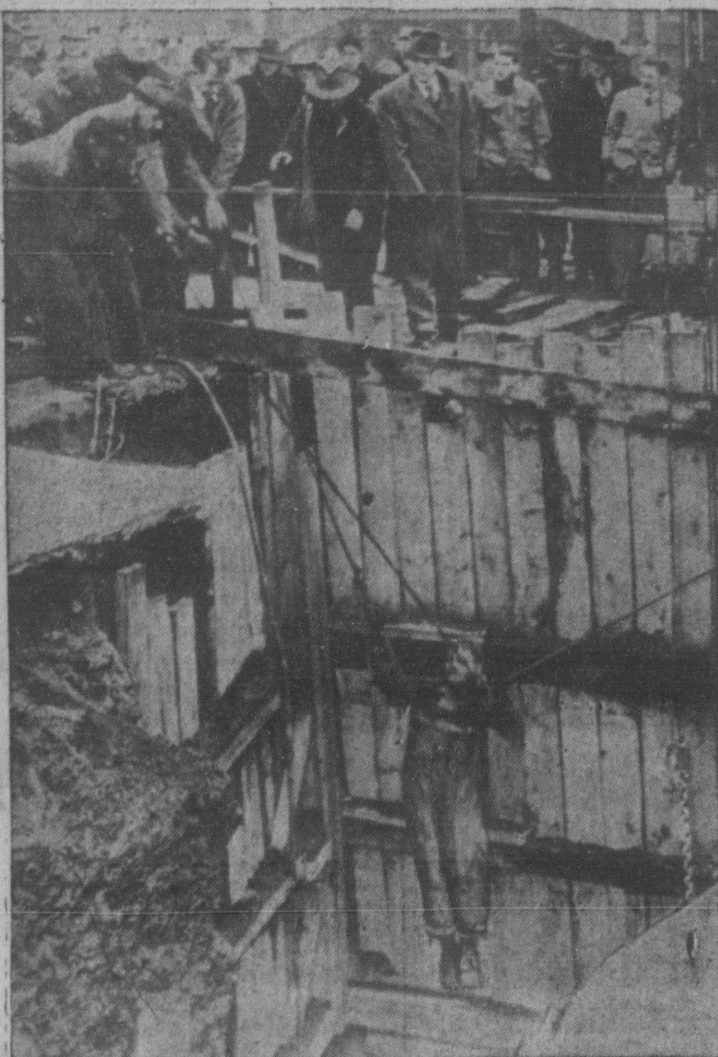

The U. S. Department of Agriculture Bureau of Agricultural Economics pointed out today that the November price was exceeded only by the $5.56 average paid in November of 1946.

Quantities delivered to both the principal Ohio fluid markets and milk manufacturing plants, however, showed sharp decreases from the October level. The 21 fluid markets received an estimated 128 million pounds of milk during November, a decrease of 22 million from the previous month. Manufacturing plant receipts were down 31 million pounds.

Although the decreased production is seasonal, the department pointed out the drop this year was from two to three times the decreases in the same months of 1946.

Rescued After Sewer 'Burial'

showed a net profit of 94 million dollars—3 million dollars above the previous year.

The board said "preliminary figures" indicate that earnings amounted to 158 million dollars with expenses totaling 65 million. The board observed:

"After adding profits on sale of government securities and deducting noncurrent charges, net earnings for the year amounted to 95 million dollars."

The board said that from the profit, the Federal Reserve banks paid 12 million dollars in dividends to their member banks and 75 million dollars to the treasury as interest on outstanding Federal Reserve notes.

Transfers to surplus amounted to about 8 million dollars.

WILL SIPHON NEWS OF WORLD FOR U. N.

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 8.—Secretary-General Trygve Lie has laid confidential pipelines to siphon information from many of the world's major capitals, including three cities in the Russian sphere, it was learned today.

Material is fed into the lines from a network of United Nations information centers established and still being set up around the globe. The 12th office in the string—the one at Moscow—will be in operation by the end of this month.

U. N. offices already are functioning in Warsaw, Prague, London, Paris, Washington, Shanghai, Rio De Janeiro, Mexico City, Copenhagen, New Delhi and Geneva. Another will be opened in the Middle East—it may be in Jerusalem—and still others in three cities to be selected in Latin America, Asia and Africa.

Publicly, the offices are responsible for dissemination and collection of U. N. intelligence by parceling out documents and pamphlets, arranging for speakers and reporting reaction back to Lake Success. These reaction reports cover newspaper and radio treatment of U. N. news and are distributed here weekly in an opinion survey.

However, one of the major tasks of the overseas offices is to send confidential reports direct to Lie's office on the internal situation in the respective countries at it affects the U. N. distribution of such highly classified reports is carefully restricted to Lie himself and the top men in his "cabinet" of assistant secretaries-general and closest advisors.

A high U. N. official stressed that the reports were limited strictly to situations affecting the U. N., but he acknowledged that the line was difficult to draw in many cases.

It costs more than $400 to clean Nelson's Column in Trafalgar Square, London.

FINDLAY, SALEM MENTIONED AMONG STATE'S BEST TEAMS

By JAMES DAILEY

United Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Jan. 8.—Ohio's high school basketball campaign was about a third over today but a scattered few teams already were spotlighted as possible tournament material.

In the northwest Carl Bachman's Findlay team, loser to champion Middletown in last year's state tournament at Columbus, looked to be in the thick of things again.

The Trojans are currently unbeaten and lead the Buckeye league with nine victories against no defeats. They play Bowling Green Friday and Lima South Saturday.

Ashland, which soundly whipped its traditional foe Mansfield

Tuesday, 41-31, is riding high with seven wins against no defeats.

Unbeaten Salem looked like good bet. Friday Salem will invade East Liverpool tournament final. Lets last year who have sunk a four won, three defeat, record and distributed by Massillon with five won against no losses and veteran-laden Canton Township with only one defeat also stand out in the Northeastern sector.

Further south along the valley Torontio and Mingo have fine records while Newark and Columbus Central are standouts in the central part of the state.

In the Southwest, Middletown still the team to beat for the state title, had to share honors with Leekland Wayne, after a shake. Write to Harry Kornst, has run up a victory string, R. D. 1, Leetonia, O. of eight and recently ran up a record on hapless Cincinnati.

Other teams in the state, with still about two months to go before district tournaments start, concentrated on league battles and traditional rivalries.

Friday Alliance will play host to Campbell Memorial Saturday. Canton Timken will play at Toledo MaComber Friday, and New Philadelphia will be at Mansfield.

Lancaster, sharing the Central Ohio league top spot with Newark, will play non-league Marysville tomorrow night. If Newark beats Dover the same night, Wildcats will hold undisputed possession of first place.

In the Lake Erie league the leading Shaker Heights Red Raiders will tangle with Elyria Friday in the feature game in that loop.

In another league encounter Leekland's Steelers will take Shaw.

Also on Friday Lima Central will visit Hamilton to try the Blue in a greater Ohio league test.

Hamilton has lost only to Findlay and Portsmouth this season.

Piquette Central, winner of straight after losing its first two games of the season, expects tough opposition in Greenville in the Trojans' first Miami Valley league contest. Greenville last week dropped Troy from the ranks of undefeated with a 48-41 victory. Radio West.

Saturday Massillon will play faded East Liverpool and up-and-coming Louisville will be at Boardman. Steubenville's Big Red will be the under-dog at Canton Township and Warren Harding will battle the powerful Canton McKinley.

SHANGHAI, "MOST INCREDIBLE CITY," LEAVES NEWCOMER OPEN-MOUTHED

By A. M. GOUL

United Press Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI—I scarcely can believe it, I like it. That was my impression of Shanghai after my first five days of open-mouthed study of the most incredible city in the world.

Five days in Shanghai doesn't qualify any one to "learn all about it," and my bet is five years would not provide a full story of this place. But in five days I saw things I have never seen before and do not expect to see in any other place in the world.

The things I have heard, seen and smelled!

The vast mixture of races and peoples, natives and foreigners who are really qualified to speak about Shanghai, no longer see anything unusual about it. To them it's routine.

World of Carnival

But to a freshman, green from the United States, Shanghai is something beyond description. There's nothing freakish about about Shanghai to Shanghaiers, but to me it's a world of carnival and circus side-show talent.

There's the man with his bamboo pole across his shoulder, with a couple of hundred dead rats hanging by their tails. He is surrounded at his sidewalk stand by eager natives bidding for the plumpest, lushest rats of the lot. For the skins and fur, that is, not the meat. They use them for glove-making.

There's the man, a hunter one supposes, who squats on the walkway across Garden Bridge, with a row of wild mallard ducks spread out before him.

There's the traveling butcher shop, the man with two baskets of raw meat and his sidewalk customers picking them over for the choice cuts. At his side is the boy with the small iron stove slung from his shoulder pole, with a little fire going. He will reach into his basket slung from the other end of the pole, bring forth a bit of meat, pick it and hand you a hot sandwich—if you want it. I didn't.

Traffic Incredible

Then there is the unbelievable, crowded traffic of the streets, with thousands on thousands of rickshaws, boys trotting along with their fares, or more thousands of pedestrians—rickshaw boys who have advanced in the world to where they have bicycle-powered jobs. They ram the streets from curb to curb, prodded along by the chirruping, honking, clanking autos, taxicabs, buses, trucks and trams. The whole is yielded into a slow-moving mass of legs and wheels.

Sidewalk hawkers add to the hectic jam. Their sing-song cries of the supreme character of their wares add to the economy of the streets.

But the thing most likely to cause a newcomer to indulge in hair-tearing is Chinese money and attempts to keep up with the vagaries of its value with respect to the U. S. dollar.

At the moment of writing, one U. S. dollar is worth about $153,000 Chinese, in ordinary transactions. Officially, the rate of exchange is $122,000 Chinese to one U. S. dollar.

The official rate long ago became lost in the wake of wage indexes for white-collar employees and laborers, in the open-market rate used by banks, and in the actual hand-to-hand rate paid in about all other transactions, including the black market.

Inflation Puzzling

Any attempt to explain inflation in terms of relationship of Chinese currency to the U. S. dollar would be futile. The best brains in the economic world have not been able to do it in years.

A few samples might help, though. A cup of coffee costs $14,000 Chinese, about 11 cents in U. S. money. A hair cut comes cheap, $35,000 Chinese or about 24 cents U. S.

A plain steak lunch costs $44,000—about 30 cents U. S. A package of American cigarettes costs from $18,000 to $27,000, depending on the brand.

A taxi ride of about 10 blocks costs $100,000 or about 70 cents U. S. But Shanghai has its excellent stores, hotels and restaurants. Shanghai is quite a place.

MILK PRICE SHOWS WHOLESALE CLIMB

COLUMBUS, Jan. 8.—The price paid Ohio farmers for milk sold wholesale continued to advance during last November, the average price of $5.15 per hundred pounds being the second highest of any month on record.

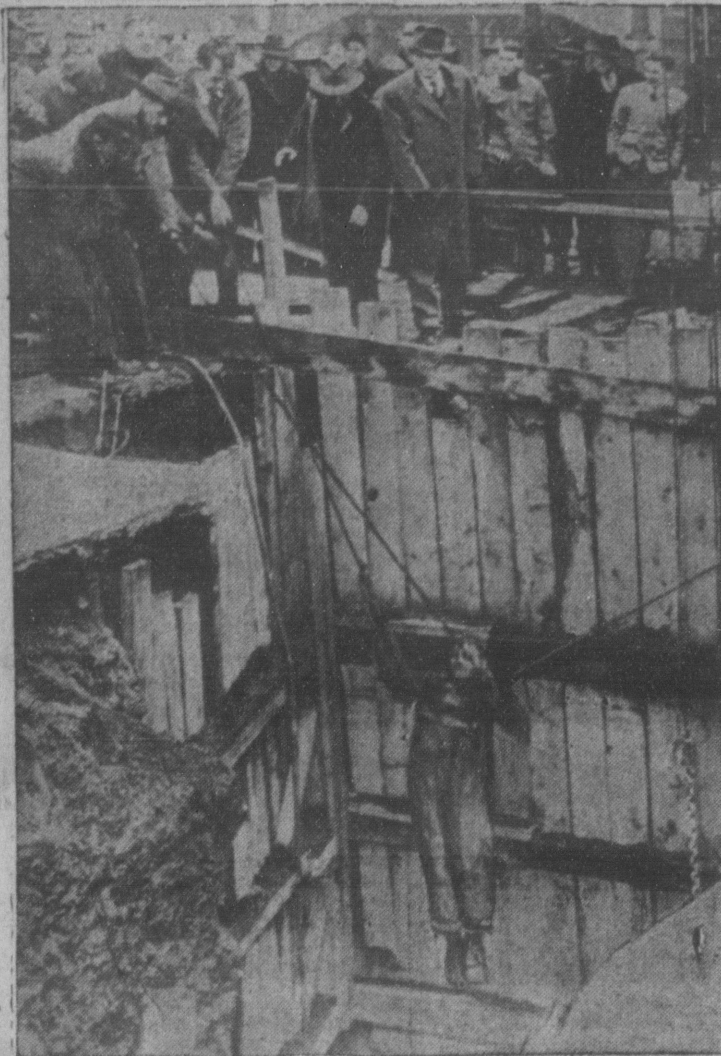

The U. S. Department of Agriculture Bureau of Agricultural Economics pointed out today that the November price was exceeded only by the $5.56 average paid in November of 1946. Quantities delivered to both the principal Ohio fluid markets and milk manufacturing plants, however, showed sharp decreases from the October level. The 21 fluid markets received an estimated 128 million pounds of milk during November, a decrease of 22 million from the previous month. Manufacturing plant receipts were down 31 million pounds.

Although the decreased production is seasonal, the department pointed out the drop this year was from two to three times the decreases in the same months of 1946.

Reservations Due For Dairymen's Dinner Jan. 14

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The Federal Reserve board estimated today that Federal Reserve banks in 1947

showed a net profit of 94 million dollars—3 million dollars above the previous year.

The board said "preliminary figures" indicate that earnings amounted to 158 million dollars with expenses totaling 65 million. The board observed:

"After adding profits on sale of government securities and deducting noncurrent charges, net earnings for the year amounted to 95 million dollars."

The board said that from the profit, the Federal Reserve banks paid 12 million dollars in dividends to their member banks and 75 million dollars to the treasury as interest on outstanding Federal Reserve notes.

Transfers to surplus amounted to about 8 million dollars.

WILL SIPHON NEWS OF WORLD FOR U. N.

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 8.—Secretary-General Trygve Lie has laid confidential pipelines to siphon information from many of the world's major capitals, including three cities in the Russian sphere, it was learned today.

Material is fed into the lines from a network of United Nations information centers established and still being set up around the globe. The 12th office in the string—the one at Moscow—will be in operation by the end of this month.

U. N. offices already are functioning in Warsaw, Prague, London, Paris, Washington, Shanghai, Rio de Janeiro, Mexico City, Copenhagen, New Delhi and Geneva. Another will be opened in the Middle East—it may be in Jerusalem—and still others in three cities to be selected in Latin America, Asia and Africa.

Publicly, the offices are responsible for dissemination and collection of U. N. intelligence by parcelling out documents and pamphlets, arranging for speakers and reporting reaction back to Lake Success. These reaction reports cover newspaper and radio treatment of U. N. news and are distributed here weekly in an opinion survey.

However, one of the major tasks of the overseas offices is to send confidential reports direct to Lie's office on the internal situation in the respective countries at it affects the U. N. distribution of such highly classified reports is carefully restricted to Lie himself and the top men in his "cabinet" of assistant secretaries-general and closest advisors.

A high U. N. official stressed that the reports were limited strictly to situations affecting the U. N., but he acknowledged that the line was difficult to draw in many cases.

It costs more than $400 to clean Nelson's Column in Trafalgar Square, London.

Burglars Hold Party
NEW YORK—Burglars who broke into the offices of the Griffin and Putnam Corporation not only took $20,000 after ripping open a safe. They also went into the company's kitchen and helped themselves to soup, ham and eggs, coffee and a bottle of Scotch.

FINDLAY, SALEM MENTIONED AMONG STATE'S BEST TEAMS

By JAMES DAILEY
United Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Jan. 8—Ohio's high school basketball campaign was about a third over today but a scattered few teams already were spotlighted as possible tournament material.

In the northwest Carl Bachman's Findlay team, loser to champion Middletown in last year's state tournament at Columbus, looked to be in the thick of things again.

The Trojans are currently unbeaten and lead the Buckeye league with nine victories against no defeats. They play Bowling Green Friday and Lima South Saturday.

LEO CHAMPING AT LIP AS OF YORE

Ace Scorer III, Probably Won't Play Friday; Cain Due To Take Over Center

Dodgers Announce Odd
Training Program
Schedule for '48

By LES CONKLIN
NEW YORK, Jan. 8—Leo Durocher, last season's Pariah of the ball field, was back in harness today and fairly champing at the lip as of yore.

Mr. Branch Rickey was fairly chortling over the fact that the Brooklyn franchise in the All America Football conference had become his, practically by default. Without, indeed, so much as the required hefting of a debenture or tapping of a cash till.

And, take it from the Messrs. Rickey and Durocher, the baseball Dodgers of 1948 took the part of better than the club which won the National League pennant in late September.

In fact, everything that was released for publication in the last 24 hours looked mildly colossal to the admiring eyes of Bum-Dom's faithful following, except this:

The Bums will be without any semblance of major league competition this spring until only four days away from opening day.

Their hitters will be no grade A pitching until then, their pitchers will face only the nominal opposition that minor leaguers can present at the plate.

As a preparatory course of conditioning for a tough pennant fight, the 1948 training program of the National league champions may turn out to be just what the undertaker ordered.

This possibility became increasingly clear today, following publication of the club's spring exhibition program. It calls for the Dodgers to play their own Montreal Royals of the International league right on through until April 16 when the Yankees are scheduled at Ebbets field.

After two more with their late conquerors of the '47 World Series, the Dodgers will be thrown headlong into the eight-club dog fight that usually marks the National league's opening weeks.

Pennants are seldom, if ever, won at that early stage. They can and have been everlastingly lost—and Mr. Rickey would be the last to deny that.

It seems he simply has been caught going the wrong way—for once. When everybody else was scrambling back out of the tropics to the American mainland for their spring antics, Mr. Rickey was busily committing the Dodgers to a long siege in the isolation of Santa Domingo.

XAVIER KNOCKS LOUISVILLE OFF

Cincy and Sister School
Are Hottest Basketball
Teams In State Now

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Jan. 8—It may be Cincinnati's water or air, but when over the reason, the Queen City's two collective athletic powers—Xavier and the University of Cincinnati—currently are the hottest items in state cage circles after shaky starts.

Xavier stunned unbeaten Louisville 62-34, last night, a quintet which ranked near the top nationally. This was the third time in the last four games that Coach Lew Hirt's quintet snapped a perfect record. Ball state and Seton Hall records were blemished in earlier engagements.

Tuesday night, Coach John Wiethe's Cincinnati outfit polished off previously-unbeaten Western Reserve, and, on last Saturday, kayaked Utah's veteran-loaded National Invitational tourney champions.

Prior to taking on Utah and Reserve, Cincinnati had won only once. Xavier, which lost two of its first five games, now has won six in a row.

In other games around the state last night, Ohio University poured it on skidding Miami, 63-41; Cantonbury of Indiana nicked Defiance, 57-45, on a last-second goal by a sub guard; Akron scored its eighth win in the nine starts by downing Youngstown, 66-55; Muskingum turned back Washington and Jefferson, 72-54, as Center Bill Ruby scored 27 points; and the Chillicothe branch of Ohio University thumped Nite college of Mt. Gilead, 47-35.

Forwards Bobwell and Howie Schaeffer were the big guns in Xavier's offense as they scored 30 points between them. The Musketeers were in the front, 27-19, at halftime.

Once-beaten Muskingum also had trouble making W & J its sixth victim. The boys from New Concord, O., led, 41-20, at halftime.

It was a case of too much Akron height in the Zipper's game with Youngstown, and the Zipper's controlled play most of the way. Hank Vaughn notched 17 points for Akron, but Bob Christen of Youngstown had 21. The Penguins now have lost five out of eight.

Jack Lane, a substitute guard, starred in Cantonbury's win over Defiance. With the score tied at 55-all, thanks to a long-shot by Defiance's Layton Fritz, Lane connected from midcourt just before the gun sounded.

Dick Shridder, fancy-shooting forward, slipped in 19 points, pacing Ohio university to victory over a Miami team playing its sixth game in eight nights. The winning Bobcats sank 47 percent of their fielders and trailed only early in the game.

Tonight, Ohio Northern is a Ashland, Kenyon at Denison, Assumption at Heidelberg, Rio Grande at Steubenville and Bluffton at Tri-State (Ind.).

Salem's V. F. W. basketball squad lost a Columbiana county league tilt Wednesday night on the local Memorial building boards to East Liverpool 63-52.

Leahy Would Liked
A Try At Michigan

(By United Press)
KINGSTON, N. Y., Jan. 8—Coach Frank Leahy, in a properly expansive post-season mood, admitted it was too bad today that his "great Notre Dame team" could not have played the "great Michigan team," which had great coaching and great spirit that made them a great team to beat.

"Michigan was second to none," he said. "But the Irish would have welcomed the chance to meet the Wolverines any time or any place."

Leahy, touching upon the terminated traditional series between the Irish and Army's cadets, said that although the schools had not entered into any negotiations, "it is my opinion that the series will be resumed in the not too distant future."

Speaking before a group of athletic officials, Leahy made it plain

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
THERE ARE MANY arguments for and against compulsory military training now for young men 18 to 20.

In time such a program would give this country a big pool of men who had had some military training. In an emergency those still in training—900,000 a year—could be pulled right into the armed forces.

James Marlow previously had had the training, but were civilians again, might fit into the armed forces faster than those never trained.

But with a bill now before congress to set up such a program, this is the main question:

Is such a program necessary right now to keep this country prepared against attack and discourage any would-be aggressor from starting war?

The arguments revolve around that question. Here are some of them, for and against the program.

Is it necessary to start such a program now? For—
We need to start it now. Right now the United Nations can't preserve peace. U. N. lacks the machinery, a world police force, to do it. But the world is in bad, unsteady shape, with Communism creeping across Europe from Russia.

If we're prepared with a reserve of trained men, an enemy would hesitate to attack us or start a war.

IN THIS WAY, besides protecting ourselves, we'd help U. N. keep peace until U. N. was able to do it. If we're military strong, other nations will have more confidence in us and so be more willing to resist pressure from any would-be aggressor.

Russia is not believed to have the atomic bomb now. It may have it within three to eight years. At that time, if we're unprepared, Russia might attack us. But—
To get prepared and keep world peace, we need to start right now to build up a reserve of trained men.

Against—
We shouldn't start such a program now. We joined U. N. to help keep world peace collectively. We should try harder to make U. N. work better. Training young men for war doesn't show much faith in U. N.

The next war will be atomic. If we're attacked, it will be with a rain of bombs, not just one. Scientists have predicted that a future atomic attack might wipe out 40,000,000 people. So—

In such a case the half-trained youths of our military program couldn't be brought together, or whipped into shape, fast enough to go much good.

Russia is not able now to start a war against us. We have the atomic bomb, probably a big supply of bombs. It will take Russia years to make a bomb. It wouldn't start a war against us without the bomb.

Will this kind of program lead to war, instead of preventing it? For the program—it would discourage war. This country's unpreparedness before World Wars I and II was a major factor in making those two wars possible. Our enemies thought they could win because we were weak.

Against—the program would lead to war. It would start an arms race and turn the world into a jittery, armed camp ready to pull the trigger any minute.

Besides, preparedness doesn't prevent an enemy from attacking. France, for example, had a large, trained citizens reserve before World War II. That did not stop Germany from attacking her.

Would such a program lead to militarism in this country? For the program—no. The citizens of this country can be relied upon to prevent that. We had 15,000,000 men under arms in World War II but there has not been any trend toward militarism. Veterans are the severest critics of military life.

Against—putting youths into a military program—and keeping that program going for years—builds up a generation of men with militarism part of their thinking.

Would the program—at least $2,000,000,000 a year—cost too much? For the program—No. Time may mean the difference between defeat and victory in the next war. Having trained men ready would save us time. So it is insurance, and worthwhile, if it brings victory.

Against—that $2,000,000,000 a year would be just an added tax burden on the people for a program that's not necessary in the first place. It's money that could be better spent for education, housing, things like that.

Besides, the government could spend more money, without needing to spend that much, on building up present systems for trained reserves, like the national guard.
